Letter of Intent

I, Vasileios Fanaras, residing at Kolokotroni 16, Triandria, GR 55337, Thessaloniki, Greece, hereby declare my intention to support the activities of the Horizon 2020 project *ITHOS-Innovative educational methods for nurturing a culture of ethics and research integrity to be submitted under the topic “SwafS-02-2018: Innovative methods for teaching ethics and research integrity” as Member of the Advisory Board of the project.

As was explained to me, this project will contribute to improving current educational methods, raise awareness on the topic and contribute to the establishment of a research integrity culture across the EU. To do so, it is our understanding that ITHOS will provide the most effective activities and tools to reach an audience as wide as possible, at regional, national and European level.

As member of the ITHOS Advisory Board, I express my interest to:

- assist the project consortium to perform its tasks by providing timely input and information,
- offer advice relevant to my expertise and the research activities of the project,
- review project Deliverables,
- participate in selected ITHOS events (kick-off meeting, peer expert workshop to discuss the pedagogical model and the design of the curricula, the 2 annual events, the final conference, etc.),
- support the dissemination of the project by activating relevant contacts and channels of communication.

My activities and my participation in the project’s events will be performed in close collaboration and communication with the Project’s Steering Committee.

I shall not be requested to provide any information that is considered confidential.

I understand that this letter of interest is non-binding and simply demonstrates recognition of the importance and support to the ITHOS project initiative.
